OUR MISSION

INFODYNAMICS' Mission is to maximize customers' efficiency in managing information assets. We do this by creating and supporting robust, affordable automation software that truly enhances the customers' way of doing business through innovative software and services.

INFODYNAMICS was founded in 1989 and released its first version of INBOOKS in 1996. We started writing novel and affordable document solutions and have been expanding with innovative solutions ever since. Our software has developed from excellence in document automation to a comprehensive suite of products and services that help companies with accounting and every aspect of their business.
